

Stevens Competition 2023: Architectural Glass Artist of the Year

The Worshipful Company of Glaziers' and Painters of Glass (the Glaziers' Company) has been running the Stevens Competition for 50 years to encourage artists, students, and architects in the early stages of their career to demonstrate their skills as glass artists and/or craftsmen to design a glass panel to be installed as a feature in a building development.

The 2023 Stevens Competition is a co-operation between the Glaziers' and Mercers' Companies to source two architectural glass panels to be installed in the reception area the Whittington Building which the Mercers' Company is currently constructing in the City of London.

The panels will form a key design element in the reception area to the new complex which will be finished to a high standard of contemporary design. Entrants will be free to offer a design solution using any form of architectural glass to reflect the Mercers' vision of the past and future expressed in figurative or abstract form. The Glaziers' Company will award a range of prizes for the design solutions. The Mercers' Company will select their chosen solution and work with the artist or architect to finalise the design before commissioning the fabrication and installation of the panels as an integral part of the construction programme.

The closing date for the competition is Thursday 12th January 2023.

The Brief for the Stevens 2023 Competition can be found in the Competitions and Awards section of the Glaziers' website www.glazierscompany.org.uk